++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Fog patches likely tonight. A few showers on Tuesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry with light winds and prolonged clear spells in the west, becoming cold by dawn with a patchy frost. A mixture of fog and low cloud will form in East Anglia through the early hours, moving slowly westwards. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Tuesday:
A dry morning with plenty of sunshine, any low cloud receding to the coast. Cloudier with a few showers during the afternoon though feeling warm in any spell of sunshine. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with scattered showers Wednesday, clearing south later. Dry and largely sunny thereafter. Feeling warm by daytime though slightly colder along coasts, due to onshore winds. Some overnight frosts.
